

Franklin Templeton 529 College Savings Plan A Smarter Way to Invest for College[®]

Give them a world that includes a college education.

As soon as your (grand) child is born, you begin to imagine what their future will hold. Whatever that is, it's likely to require a college degree. When the time comes, will you be ready to pay for it?

I'd like to invite you to attend a presentation to help answer these key questions:

1. How much is college going to cost?
2. When should I start saving for college?
3. What are the different ways to save for college?

Hosted By:

Firm:

Date:

Time:

Place:

To RSVP:

Attendance is limited.

Investors should carefully consider college savings plan and/or mutual fund investment goals, risks, charges and expenses before investing. To obtain a 529 plan disclosure document or mutual fund prospectus, which contains this and other information, please call me or call Franklin Templeton Distributors, Inc., the manager and underwriter for a 529 plan at (866) 362-1597. You should read the 529 plan disclosure document and/or mutual fund prospectus carefully before investing and consider whether your or the account beneficiary's home state offers any state tax or other benefits that are only available for investments in its qualified tuition program.

Note to Financial Advisors: This flyer has been filed with FINRA and should not be changed in any way without prior approval from Franklin Templeton Distributors, Inc. Please file this flyer with your compliance department after each use.